Dear Mr. Anderson:

I have just received Mr. Snodgrasse's typewritten report of his summer's explorations and with this in hand have gone over the specimens collected by him.

First, I wish to thank you and your son, Mr. Harold Anderson, for the splendid cooperation given Mr. Snodgrasse, and your many courtesies to him. Also, we greatly appreciate your generosity in presenting us with certain artifacts of special interest to the archaeology of your vicinity. Finally, I appreciate your willingness to permit the photographing of important specimens in your collection, which I understand you are willing to have reproduced in the published report of the season's work.

I should be glad to have a line from you confirming this permission to publish photographs of your specimens. Since you have the most important collection and made the initial discoveries, you should have full credit. In describing specimens in your collection and illustrating them we can give you full credit for the initial discoveries and for further information concerning the distribution of the Folsom type. However, before we proceed with the preparation of a manuscript, I wish to be sure that we have your approval.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Perry Anderson,
Yuma, Colorado.
